THE EVENING STAR. INTERESTING TO LADIES ONLY, WASHINGTON:

CROSBY S, NOYES...... Editor The Evening Star has a regular, permaner bona fide daily circulation more than treb that of any other daily paper published in Washington, and much greater than that of all the other daily papers bere added

Advertisers will serve their own purpose best, and at the same time greatly accommodate THE STAR, if they will send in before noon to-morrow their announcements for the extra large edition of Saturday's paper, the forms of which must be sent to press much earlier than on the other five days of the week.

The tariff bill presented to the full committee of ways and means yesterday is designed to reduce the annual revenue of the Government somewhat more than $50,000,000. The professed purpose of all tions of the tariff reformers is to obtain as great a reduction as can be secured without injury to any egitimate industry. The, painful differences of opinion arise in deciding as to what is and what is Plush and Satin HANDKERCHIEF CASES. complaints that the duty on sugar has not been cut down further, while Louisiana will protest most vigorously against the cut that is made as ruinous to the cane-growing industry Pulp for paper-makers' use is another matter over nich a fight is bound to be made. In the new bill it is put on the free list. In the present law it pays a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem. Every publisher of books and newspapers will recall the struggle against monopoly which took place about eight years ago, when the market for printing paper was cornered and the price run up so high that many of the publishers who were operating on siender capital were driven to the wall. There came then a loud appeal to Congress for relief; but, at the first talk of putting pulp on the free list or reducing the duty on foreign paper, the rich pulp men put the screws upon the manufacturers tho were in their debt, and the manufacturers turned their backs upon their patrons and used all their influence with Congress to fight off the threatened change. We shall bably see the same scenes reënacted this year when the paper schedule comes up for consideration. Salt, wool and lumber will also find vigorous champions to fight for their further protec-tion. In short, the summer's natural duliness may be expected to be enlivened to no slight degree by the warfare between the friends of the fected industries and the foes of the Treasury surplus; and the struggle will be all the more ingress knows that his constituants are watching the part he takes and are preparing to reward or punish him accordingly on the 6th of November.

The minority report in the Citizens' Committee against the proposed change in the form of the District government brings out clearly the lack of harmony between the majority report and the legislation which it recommends. The whole drift of the majority report favors suf-frage in the District in the choice of municipal officers, and the incongruous conclu-sion is that we will not ask for suffrage, at least not at present. In view of this circumstance, and in view of the fact that the originator of this coupcil plan in an interview published a number of years ago favored the election of his council, there is stification for those who have suspected that the esent proposition is intended, by those who are ishing it, to be amended before enactment in such wise as to give us suffrage in the District's municipal affairs. Whether that is the intention or not, the report favoring suffrage will go to Congress, and the suffrage advocates will undoubtedly take advantage of the opportunity offered and seek to amend the bill in accordance with their views. If that effort is successful, the miserable sham of a privilege to Spring Styles In Headgear. deposit ballots without the right to choose any official with real power, in view of the right of exclusive legislation for the District given to Congress by the Constitution, accompanied, however, city government, will be imposed upon the capital; and, whether successful or not, the agitation of the matter will give those in and out of Congress, who are hostile to the present financial relations between the District and General government, an opportunity to disturb and INTO PIGEON-HOLES CALLED HAT-BOXES perhaps overthrow them. The suggestion that bar to unlimited popular suffrage is deceptive. There is no present danger which demands bar or with the expensive farce of popular suffrage in the choice of municipal officers, unless indeed this re-port and bill furnish the very danger with which

The suicide of Mrs. Manice, the actress, 1 Chicago yesterday, is the sensational ending to a sad romance. She was an actress at the time of her meeting with Mr. Manice, but this fact did not deter him from pressing his attentions upon her even to the point of following her in her travels about Europe. At his earnest insistance they were married, and everything went along smoothly till his family announced their refusal with his family rather than with his wife. The eparation was presently followed by divorce proceedings, which so harrassed and worried the girl that she took her own life. It is a short story, soon fold; but it raises anew the old, old ques tion, why so many a young man, smitten so the heart by a pretty face before the footlights will give less consideration to the act by which he ads himself to a woman for life than he will about buying a horse or changing his lodgings, and why a young woman of the stage, who is able to care for herself, will risk all her future happiness by joining fortunes with a man whose love sinks no deeper than the surface of his eyes.

ounced upon him by the Paris police court is not what would have been given to a common thier perhaps; but, as M.
